Brian Hadley's "Lord's Prayer" Poster

Charlotte, N.C. businessman Brian Hadley created this beautiful poster in the fall of 2009. He cut out 30 cardboard squares, wrote down one or more words from The Lord's Prayer on each square then paid homeless men and women in Charlotte $5.00 to allow him to photograph them holding the words to The Lord's Prayer.

Since he created this poster, there have been several others that have done similar projects in North Carolina. Brian said he had two purposes behind his poster: To raise money for the homeless and to change how people think about the The Lord's Prayer. He believes his poster accomplished both. "The biggest thing is the Lord's Prayer is for everyone," he said, "and everyone is benefitting from this project."

The posters sell for $10.00 each and thanks to Brian and his idea; more than $6000 has been raised for Samaritan House.
